A SHORT TRIP to Sarawak & the Dyaks

Published in Sarawak, A.D. 1870
Ladies & Gentlemen, I beg to state that owing to the peculiar process, by which this series of sketches are lithographed, I have only been able to obtain one hundred and a few odd copies. – The originals are destroyed. The prints introduced are a class which in the Kalakah, they may be better known as rubbies. The sketch of the Resident is not meant to caricature any officer in the Sarawak service, and that of the fort is not meant to represent that of any one station in particular. The process of transferring the sketches (originally etched with a common steel pen upon lithographic transfer paper) to the stone appears to have been sadly I feel that beyond their originality, they possess little recommendable to your favour.

S.E.

1870.
Government Offices

Church

Fort

Intrusion by the influence of the enemy, the fleet arrives.
Rosehill in possession. Arrives at Fort William.
To which I send by a seaman with a letter from the Royal who is just starting on the present expedition for the gold coast and will be happy to give him a passage to one of them.
Tourist witnesses two Malaya perform a Malay dance.
Accident has a few really friends. Coffee on the evening in the mansion after the launch of Queen Victoria, Pari & England. March 1913.